A MESSAGE FROM MARTHA

I have a mission to bring dance into family life, to help you become more fully alive in your body, connecting the healing power of dance into transforming action that builds strong, healthy bodies and minds in a nurturing, peaceful environment, where all can experience the joy of movement excellence in traditional classical ballet techniques, modern dance, creative dance and choreography. I'm dedicated to supplying the symbols that express the language of the soul, which move the human spirit forward. It is never too late to discover the wonderful creative artist in the center of your being.
